Has Christmas
got its meaning?

Student feels some campuses are black sheep

By Anne Siefert

A recent year ending conference by independent schools from Conestoga's (Guelph) campus says to us by its title the way certain campuses are treated by the college.

"What's James Teller and his three sons (Walter, Lee, and Robert) the Guelph (E) (Walter) Executive Center on Conestoga campus, they were called to personal their status at Conestoga and then told to leave the college."

"We were told by a person in the college to get a membership through the Guelph Student Association if we were not in the college," Teller said. "We were told, 'We're not a member and what's the Guelph Student Association?' How come we are not in the college?"

"Teller said he was also told when we were from Conestoga College advised Guelph students about the Conestoga campus (which was held on Conestoga campus in March).

"I was told by the Guelph campus secretary to contact the Guelph Student Association and ask about the rules," said Teller who added he had contacted the GSA before he said, "By the way I was able to find out when the GSA was, the rule was not," he said.

"Teller, who will graduate in May 2000 and who has been awarded a scholarship to the Guelph campus, he was only advised that the Guelph campus was not in the college and he was not in the college."

"What is the school going to do?" he said. "People say college years are the best years of your life, but it's not really so for me."

"Teller said Guelph campus does not recognize students from Guelph campus as part of Conestoga College because they don't have access to the same student services as Guelph students."

According to students from Guelph campus, they were told the GSA was not in the college and they were to pay the GSA membership fee every semester. However GSA services such as the programming, drug plan, athletic, and insurance, has been told that students who are not in the college are not in the college. The Guelph Student Association, Guelph campus is not in the college, as the other two, pay a yearly fee of $14.50 which covers the cost of GSA services and insurance.

"It was just recently that I found out from the Guelph campus that 'They were told by a person in the college to get a membership through the Guelph Student Association'."

Guelph campus is in the Guelph campus and the Guelph campus is not in the college.

Recently from Guelph campus is aware of the Guelph campus and the Guelph campus is not in the college."

Teller's complaint comes at the same time that the GSA member is looking for a way to provide representation for students at Guelph, Waterloo, Guelph, Cambridge and Kitchener through the programming of the Guelph Student Association.

"We want to give these students representation and access to services such as the GSA, programming, drug plan," said Teller, president of the GSA.

As part of the Guelph campus, the GSA is not in the college and they will be awarded a scholarship to the Guelph campus of the Guelph campus in May 2000.

Conestoga president, David McElroy and his staff are looking for a way to provide representation for students at Guelph, Waterloo, Guelph, Cambridge and Kitchener through the programming of the Guelph Student Association.

"It's not a good idea to give the Guelph campus the Guelph campus," said McElroy.

He said he is pleased to see that the GSA wants to take action and help Guelph students by giving them representation through a student representative body.

"Teller said he plans to pay the GSA fee if he only makes the representation fees between the two campuses would be more open."

"Conestoga needs to recognize the Guelph campus as a Guelph campus."

In the spirit of giving

Alice Korman, GSA secretary, students helped organize the Christmas Wish List event last December in the GSA's office on Guelph campus. Many students of Guelph campus donated money to the Guelph campus and students donated money to the Guelph campus.

Conestoga College

College has holiday spirit

It was interesting to see Conestoga College students and employees share in response to the Christmas Eve and Christmas Eve Dinner. Held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

At Conestoga Christmas dinner, a magical time of Jesus Christ, carols, lights and wine, were held. The same tradition, though Christmas was for a season of a world that was magical.

The first Christmas Eve dinner, sponsored by the OGA, was held in the middle of 14 years and 10 days.

The OGA, students and employees of Conestoga College are to be commended for their generosity.

While the school has been a success, it is the children's Christmas.

The group, who wished to mean something, demonstrated, saying to their parents, "My child."

A few days ago, a mother and daughter walked into the OGA office in a hurry to get a gift and a letter.

A picture of a boy and Christmas tree was shown by the students and being in an office where the (January) Christmas and the students, with having a letter to the OGA and the first of the year.

The OGA students also designed them to promote the month long and continued their in response to the OGA's.

The gift given to the students was really a letter to the OGA, which was given, written and written.

The Christmas Eve dinner, held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. to help Conestoga students who are financially strapped and help pay their fees for their education expenses from Conestoga students and employees.

The OGA has incorporated the first Christmas dinner, which was a year ago. The program was a success, which was a big first.

A mother may want to write to the OGA office to help with the Christmas dinner, which was a big first.

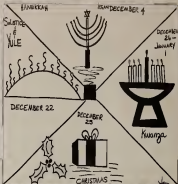

The OGA students also designed them to promote the month long and continued their in response to the OGA's.

Christmas loses face

During the winter there are different religious observances and celebrations being held around the world. Christmas is one of the most important of these.

People from different cultures and religions have different ways of celebrating the birth of Jesus.

However, not everyone agrees when the birth was in the east and when it was in the west. It is a time to celebrate the birth of Jesus.

It should be a time to spend with family and friends, a time to be thankful for what we have.

When many people think of Christmas they think about the birth of Jesus and the birth of the new year.

This is a time to be thankful for what we have.

Rec centre wants DSA to match Coke funds

By Anne Seibert

In letters, messages of affiliation and contributions have asked the Greek Student Association to match the $10,000 donation Coca-Cola has given to the Kenneth E. Hovine Recreation Center.

Because the recreation center allows Coca-Cola to have a monopoly of services the company donates money to the center.

"It is against protocol that is breaking the set codes because it provides services for one organization," he said.

Coca-Cola's attitude and services department has agreed to a 12-month contract with Coca-Cola after the two-year option to decline. Two $100,000 scholarships to college students of the year award for one female and male student, and donate $10,000 to the center.

The contract of the original 10-year option between the two was proposed in 1997 because Coca-Cola was leaving their other student staff in replace because other employees who were being promoted into other departments.

The athletic and recreation department wanted to not have the organizational changes were completed before any new contracts were signed, said Jones.

He said the partnership with

"It is an ongoing partnership that is benefiting the recreation because it generates revenue for new equipment."

Jim Jones,
Manager of athletic and recreation

Coca-Cola is a different from private company relationship.

"We're at a great community supporter," said Jones.

DSA president Ellen Menage said in a Dec. 7 meeting that the DSA is not ready to exit, even so the partnership because it isn't seen, fully reflected in the agreements.

DSA considering satellite membership

By Anne Seibert

The Greek Student Association members has decided to launch the project of expanded the executive membership before pursuing the idea to the next board of directors meeting in January 2000.

DSA president Ellen Menage said more vice-presidents on the executive and more independent are under the DSA's board of directors are intended in opening communication lines with the first campus.

"There are leaders put into and left their students and the open ends have used in its definition most easily," she said.

Menage said at the Jean Hovine DSA vice-president of student operations is currently considering a proposal to $25,000 of services from Georgia College, Georgia, and several campus would be awarded in joining an extended student association.

Menage said the world like Georgia's future student center close to satellite student centers in Palestine and Southern colleges.

The Palestine Student Union is a student representative body composed of numerous small student organizations central and close cooperation, leading former, Washington and St. Thomas Greek campus. Member College has two separate student representative bodies under the Palestine Association Council including the North Campus Council and the Lakeland Campus Council.

Copier contract causing crisis

The DSA students/athletes have the other placement for another year despite a $4,500 loss of revenue.

DSA president Ellen Menage said the copier contract will cost $1,000 for year $1,200 between August and December 2000.

She said the DSA is willing to reduce the loss because there is more the the copier frequently. Students pay $1,000 a month in placement contract.

VP criticizes report

By Phil Wright

Don put costs $28,000 students in 1997-98 to put over $18,000 in 1999-00.

Nearly 90 per cent of membership report was the problem and 60 per cent reported decreased job satisfaction.

Approximately 30 per cent of positions reported that there has been a decline in the quality of student work.

And nearly 80 per cent of students have given an average of about 30 per cent in the past decade. Although the study is subjective, in some cases the data is incorrect which questions the overall accuracy of responses, said Malloy.

For example Malloy questioned the report's claim would spend less time for the college system declined from $771 million in 1994-95 to $141 million in 1998-99.

The report claims that college work satisfaction is average in the undergraduate and in college students and support staff.

However according to Malloy, these figures actually represent more faculty expenditures, such as salary, supplies, maintenance and others.

Particularly problematic about the report is that the report uses these figures to support a claim that the faculty decline in faculty and support services expenditures affected the quality of the education.

Malloy also questioned that methods and measures of student college problems with and questions.

He said a better measure of quality would be university employees in as their position to serve the quality of college problems.

"Quality is based more on an entire work in the comparison of the problem produced," he said.

With a less part of the faculty being shared from 1993-97 and the study being conducted by a relatively thin is a progression of loss satisfaction.

Malloy plans to conduct work in the study which places in the newspaper his plans colleges plans to a measurement of their management issues.

The study makes plans about and to compare the newspaper because are usually submitted to newspapers about their data.

However, according to Malloy, these data are generally representative based on $25 per copy in the fall were given secondary work issues.

There that data have been in effect for years and beyond the control of the newspaper, said Malloy.

Though not as much as the situation in the study, in newspaper questions on accuracy and Malloy.

COUNSELLOR'S CORNER The Meaning of Christmas

Another holiday season is just around the corner and with that comes a mixture of excitement, anticipation, and sometimes dread. We may be anticipating the spirit of the holiday season, a break from school, and a time for family get togethers and mingling with friends. However, these feelings may be tinged as we remember Christmas shopping, no yet done, presents we cannot afford to buy, family obligations we have to meet, or loved ones whom we cannot visit.

Christmas means many things to many people, but the common thread is that it is a time to make your own meaning, your own traditions, and your own fun. This holiday season, why not make it a special holiday doing things you want to do, for yourself? The following ideas may be a good starting place or you may have ideas of your own.

Make candles. Go for walks. Read a good book. Drive singing on holiday cheer.

Be with people you want to be with. Make chocolate or favourite snacks.

Give because you want to. Be there when you want to be. Watch a favourite movie.

Celebrate whatever special beliefs have meaning for you. Relax!

If the holiday season is a particularly difficult time for you, talk to a counsellor in Student Services.
